DRESSAGE

Launch of the FEI Dressage Performance Dashboard

The FEI Dressage Performance Dashboard, a unique platform for Dressage and Para Dressage athletes to review their past sporting performances, has been launched by the FEI in partnership with SAP and Black Horse One.

FEI registered Dressage and Para Dressage athletes can access all their paperless scoresheets, including comments from judges over the last five years, through the FEI Dressage Performance Dashboard. While athletes can access the platform for free and use the basic analytical tools available, they can also choose to unlock all the features of the platform through a Premium subscription.

Access the FEI Dressage Performance Dashboard here.

EVENTING

The following documents have been updated:

FEI Eventing Risk Management Q&A

The Risk Management Q&A has recently been updated with all the latest information and is available on Inside.FEI.org.

FEI approved Frangible Devices

The use of 8mm pre-fabricated Dyneema ropes has been approved for use with the British Eventing Reverse Frangible Pin for rails up to 90 kg. The updated instruction manual has been published on the frangible devices page within the FEI Eventing.

Use of Tack Equipment

The Eventing FAQ document on Tack, Equipment and Dress has been revised and is available on the FEI Eventing Rules page.

Cross Country guide for Officials

The Cross Country guide for Officials was recently updated and is available on the FEI Eventing Rules page.

ENDURANCE

FEI Education & Officials: FEI Endurance Level 1 Judge and Steward Officials

As of now, a new Transfer-up Programme with an online course is available for National Endurance Judges and Stewards to become FEI Endurance Level 1 Officials.

National Officials interested in this opportunity need to approach their National Federation and make sure they fulfil the requirements below:

- speak and understand English – with a A2 grade or above

- have passed the online FEI Foundation Course
- have attended one mentor ride as Steward
- have attended one mentor ride as Ground Jury member

The National Federation will then take care of submissions by providing the FEI with:

- An individual application form for the Transfer-up Programme, duly completed by the National Federation for each applicant Official. The application form is available here on Inside.FEI.org.

By sending the form to the FEI, the National Federation certifies that the National Official fulfils the entry requirements, is in good standing with the National Federation and is formally recommended to become an FEI Endurance Level 1 Official.

Should you have questions regarding the Transfer-up Programme for National Officials to become FEI Endurance Level 1 Judge and Steward Officials, please contact endurance@fei.org.

VAULTING

FEI Vaulting Forum 2022 and amended Vaulting Guidelines

On 19 March, the FEI successfully hosted its first ever FEI Vaulting Forum dedicated to the Reference Score and the Cartwheel. Eighty participants joined the Forum with a worldwide representation.

FEI Chair of the FEI Vaulting Technical Committee, Pavla Krauspe, explained the main focus of the reference score and provided videos regarding the different systems. Isabelle Parker, member of the FEI Vaulting Technical Committee, presented the Cartwheel and explained how its description had slightly been reviewed by the Committee.

Based on the comments raised during the FEI Vaulting Forum 2022, the FEI Vaulting Technical Committee has slightly amended the FEI Vaulting Guidelines with regards to the Reference Scores and the description of the Cartwheel exercise. These amendments can be found highlighted in blue in the updated Guidelines published on the FEI Vaulting Rules page.

Krauspe also expressed her gratitude to all participants and emphasised that organising a Forum once a year would be a good way forward in order to keep the Vaulting community informed and to gather feedback on specific topics. She also thanked the Athletes and all the Vaulting stakeholders who worked relentlessly over the past two years, facing the challenges brought about by the Covid-19 pandemic, and allowing for a return to competition in 2021 with two major championships.

The agenda, presentations and wrap up of the Forum can be found in the dedicated Vaulting Forums section online.

FEI Vaulting Qualification criteria 2022

The Overall Vaulting Qualification Criteria 2022 for Vaulting events has been slightly modified to reflect the correct qualification criteria for CVIY2*. These modifications can be found below and the full Vaulting Qualification Criteria is available on the FEI Vaulting Rules page.
